

26 Men Accept Frat. Bids

Theta Chi Leads in Totals Ties With Lambda Chi In Welcoming 8 June Frosh

In comparison with peacetime rushing the results of the recent fraternity rushing are not very impressive, as the following figures attest.

In fact, the Tekes have no pledges at all. The four other fraternities just about parallel each other in their number of pledges.

Kappa Phi Delta was late in holding their acceptance dinner meeting so their pledges are not known as yet.

Below are the names of the pledges and their respective fraternities:

Tau Kappa Epsilon—no pledges.

Lambda Chi Alpha—Herb Fadeley, Bill Friedrich, Dave MacPherson, John Liggins, Tom Navalinski, Ford MacElvaine, Frank Bash, Gerald Cooper.

Alpha Pi Lambda—Phil Egan, Herbert Carroll, Donald Barriett, John Denham, Richard Fry, Joseph Sibirlick.

Kappa Phi Delta—Incomplete until tomorrow night.

Rushing season began October 2 and closed October 14 with the open house dances. Silence period began the following Wednesday noon at which time bids were placed in the mailboxes following submittance of them to Dr. Hanson. Acceptance was acknowledged by presence at dinners Monday and Wednesday nights at the respective houses.

Schlieske on WSGA Board

At an election on Monday, October 23, Ellen Schlieske was elected to fill the position on the Executive Board of the Women's Student Government Association vacated by Blanche Baker. Regular W.S.G.A. elections were held during the Spring Term. The present officers are as follows:

President, Dorothy Brown; vice-president, Polly McSparron; secretary, Shirley Kraft; treasurer, Hope Makler; dormitory president, Jane Scanlon.

Members of the Executive Board are: Janet Conrad, Gloria Bardy, Marilyn Barr, Stella Sunn, Ellen Schlieske.

Betty Schellhase was appointed to the Women's Athletic Board.

Ellen and Betty are well known around Drexel and it is generally felt that they are fitted for their positions on the W.S.G.A. Ellen, a sophomore Retail Manager, is a member of the Delta Sigma Epsilon sorority. Betty is in her freshman year here and is taking the Junior Secretarial Course. She made the Varsity Hockey Team this fall.

This year, as usual, the W.S.G.A. is endeavoring to carry out its aims to the best of its ability. The association was formed to promote student cooperation in self-government, to encourage cordial relations between faculty and students, to maintain the highest levels of honor and integrity WSGA on page 3, col. 5

Equipment Stolen

The Athletic House at 46th and Locust streets has had its floor polished. In fact, they are still talking about it.

Music was supplied by the many amateur bands of the day by way of the recorder, and novelty dances not only a set of hip and shoulder pads were missing. Additional equipment was as yet discovered may also have been stolen. No clue was left as to the thieves.

Enough equipment yet remains on hand to cover the losses in this week's game at Lehigh.

Pumpkin Formal Tonight

Tonight's the night! . . . Though witches will bristle about on their broomsticks, black cats perch on fences and eerie forms float through the atmosphere, tucked cozily in the famous Student Building, 3110 Market Street, the guys and gals of Drexel will let loose at the first formal dance of the school year. Yes, you've guessed it! It's the traditional Delta Sigma Epsilon Halloween dance, dressed up this year in formal clothes but still laid in the setting of pumpkins, cornstalks, and low lights.

Gertrude Garfield, dance chairman, and her able committeees have staged a super evening that will live long in the memories of Drexel students from frosh to seniors. Lollie Lesko will have full charge of transforming the everyday Student Building with pumpkins and streamers into a place worthy of goblins and ghosts. To Jean Oldach the hungry dancers will owe their thanks for those timely sandwiches and refreshing punch.

The duty of chaperoning will be performed by two genial Drexel celebrities and their wives. Mr. Budd of PROM on page 3, col. 5

Bazaar To Aid Letter

A benefit bazaar will be held on Wednesday, November 15, by the Drexel Women's Club in the Student Building to help raise funds for the "Drexel News Letter." The Bazaar will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 10 p.m. Articles on sale will include a great variety of articles. Home-made candy, cakes, and cookies,—aprons of all sort—big and little, fancy and plain, second-hand costume, jewelry and books, "white elephants," and stationery are on the list. For novelty gifts, there will be sets of match boxes, hand-decorated and wrapped in cellophane. Girls, there will be a few of those precious linen towels and some sets of cocktail napkins that are so hard to obtain today!

Various types of entertainment have been arranged. Miss Chapman will tell fortunes in the afternoon and evening. A 40-minute show of old time movies will be shown at 3 and 4 in the afternoon, and 7, 8, and 9 in the evening. On sale now are chances on the two framed water color paintings, one by Mrs. Edna P. Brandeau, the other by Mrs. F. Virginia Dillmore. A hand-made wall braided throw rug contributed by Mrs. M. R. Weber will also be chanced off.

Contributions from both students and alumni will be appreciated. They should be taken to Miss Larned in the Alumni Office, or to Mrs. M. R. Weber who is chairman of the Bazaar.

Former Vaudeville Stars Found in Student Building

It was dark in the Student Building. A passing sophomore stopped for a moment and listened to the strains of yesteryear hits as they rolled from the keys of the piano. An investigation was started and these are the results:

Jim Grugan and William Elliot, better known to you kids as "Jim and Bill," the caretakers of the Student Building, have finally broken down and admitted their glorious past.

As yours truly interrogated Jim, he said, "This reminds one of the old songs 'Never Tell 'Em What You Was.' Well, in this case there's nothing to hide, but a small vaudeville record. These boys (if I may call them boys) have faced footlights for 36 years."

In 1902 the two youngsters, enthralled by the flying feet of Broadway stars, started on the road to fame. They initiated their careers as Minstrels, traveling with Culhane, Chase and Weston; Bryant Seville Minstrels and others.

They toured with Western Vaudeville Association, the Keith and Albee Vaudeville Circuit, Alexander Pantages Vaudeville Circuit, Sullivan and Considine doing their singing, dancing and comedy.

While playing out west in 1910 in a little spot called Hollywood some hustler tried to sell them lots, cheap. Too cheap they thought, and let the deal pass.

Among the Broadway shows they graced were "Whitelights" and "Town-talk." Famous cabarets such as Shanley's and Churchill's offered spots for these two. At Risenweber's cabaret they met and worked with Sophie Tucker. In good old Philadelphia they played on the Walton Roof in the well known comedy "The Drunkard."

Some of their better known acts were entitled "Flashes of Yesteryear," "Somebody's Children," and "Clown Dancers."

During the last war they toured the Army camps, entertaining the boys in much the same fashion as are the stars of today.

Tri Swing Victory Dance

The annual traditional "Tri Swing" dance will be held Saturday, November 4, in the Student Building. Mendel Tubis will furnish the soft rhythmic music.

The dance is informal and from 8:30 to 12. All Drexel is invited to attend and all are assured of a most delightful evening with plenty of surprises.

"Mickey" Fish, chairman of the dance committee, has done a splendid job in planning the big affair. Other committee heads are Ruth Criddle, tickets; "Gussie" Lentz, advertisements, and Ruth Young, decorations. Refreshments will be served during intermission.

Tickets may be purchased at the door, or from any Tri Sigma member, or may be bought at the table in the court up to and including November 4th.

The dance will follow Drexel's first home game. We hope it will be a VICTORY DANCE!!

R.O.T.C. Grows In Enrollment

The Reserve Officers' Training Corps, more commonly known as R.O.T.C., has been in existence about Drexel for a number of years, but many of the students, girls principally have no real knowledge of it or its work.

The Drexel Corps of Cadets is under the administration of the 3359th Service Unit of the United States Army Service forces.

This force is manned by Col. Goding, Professor of Military Science and Tactics; Sgt. Mathews, Sergeant-Major of the Cadet Corps; and Sgt. Anouson, Replacement in Training for Sgt. Mathews who expects to be transferred to field duty.

The Cadet Officers in past terms were chosen from an advanced course but due to the shortage of cadets the course was stopped and they are now chosen from the more promising men of the sophomore class. Among the officers are Cadet-Major Richard S. Dowd (Battalion Commander); Cadet-1st Lieutenant Paul T. Lubowitz (Adjutant); Cadet-Captain Jack D. Prosent (Company A); and Cadet-Captain William E. Nonnet (Company B).

In the Band we have Cadet-Captain Howard L. Cassaday and Cadet-2nd Lt. Norman Belshmen.

The present enrollment of the Drexel Corps of Cadets is 270. This is a decided increase from registration of the past few terms and plans are being made for the re-opening of an advanced course.

For the deviation of the Basic Course is the Branch Immaterial. That is, any training given can be used in any branch of the U. S. Armed Forces when the cadet is enlisted. After the war the training will be Branch Training, that is, training that will specifically apply to the Infantry. Graduates of the advanced course are com- ROTC on page 3, col. 4

ES Council

Plans Progress

An Engineering Society Council has been formed by the engineering societies of Drexel, consisting of five representatives from each group. Those represented are: AICHE, AIEE, and ASCE. A constitution was drawn up and is to be presented to each society for ratification by their respective members. It is also subject to the approval of the Men's Student Council.

In anticipation of this approval, a committee has been appointed to work on tentative plans for the year. Plans are being made for the Council to publish the engineering societies' publication, "The Exhaust." They also plan to sponsor an Engineers' Ball during the fall term.

Temporary officers have been approved by a majority vote of the societies' representatives. These are:

Bill Klotz, Chem. Eng.—President.
Robert Lathlaen, Civil Eng.—Vice-President.

Isidor Cogan, Elec. Eng.—Secretary.
Joe Kauffman, Mec. Eng.—Treasurer.

The five representatives from each society may be either officers or members of the executive committee of their respective group. It is expected that the Council's Constitution will be ratified by each society within the next two or three weeks.

Thespians Progress

Rouge and Rouge is buzzing with action this year. The first two days of December have been set for the production of "Ring Around Elizabeth." The story in short is as follows:

Elizabeth is the hard-taxed center of an irritating household. Her husband is a dullard; one of her daughters is hysterical in love with a cynical playboy; the other is very stridently precocious. There's a selfish old mother who hoards antiques and a fussy father-in-law who chases fires, and a nosy house guest and a bossy cook. And most of these people are worse than usual because they're all after a legacy that Elizabeth has received. Having received the breaking point, Elizabeth contracts a nice case of amnesia, in which twenty years are blotted out and she is a girl again. This enables her not only to indulge in caprices like flirting with her daughter's young man, but also telling all the members of the family what she thinks of them. All these doings show results that promise well for the future of Elizabeth and her family.

Saturday mornings, Vince Ciardo is busy building and wiring the lights that Boris Kudravetz so ably designed. Stormy Rosenberg is designing the set and Betty McFadden is in charge of the properties. Construction is under the direction of Paul Heller, who worked at Green Mansions building sets during the summer and knows his job. Phil Egan, who built sets this THESEPIANS on page 3, col. 4

In memory of Drexel's beloved dean of the Home Economics Department, the late Grace Godfrey, a memorial service will be conducted in the auditorium on Thursday, November 2, at 1:00.

With the death of Dean Godfrey this summer, Drexel felt deeply the loss of perhaps one of its wisest and most understanding faculty members.

In order to demonstrate their affection for Dean Godfrey, the Drexel Home Economics Association and Omicron Nu are planning and conducting the memorial services with the aid of the entire school.

Invocation and benediction will be led by Dr. Alexander McCall, of the Second Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia.

President Disque will open the service with a tribute to Miss Godfrey's work at Drexel. Mrs. Marcia Murdoch Simmins will speak about "Miss Godfrey, the Adviser." Sally Ross will speak about "Miss Godfrey, a Friend." Mrs. Virginia McCarthy, President of Omicron Nu, will conclude the program with a resolution in memory of Miss Godfrey.

All classes will be suspended between the hours of one and two and all students are expected to attend the service. Faculty, administrative personnel, alumni, and friends have been invited.

Dragon To Live Again

With blazing eyes and fiery breath the Drexel Dragon will once more crawl from its lair to trample the foes of Drexel's athletes as they compete for honors.

The "Triangle" is opening a campaign to reinstate the ageless Dragon, which at the present time is haunting the attic of some well-known fraternity house.

Fellow students, can we just sit doing nothing whilst the poor Dragon mopes? No—definitely not. We must, it is our duty to send a Galahad to rescue the Dragon from its slumbers and set it on the battlefield to protect the honor of Drexel Tech.

The only method plausible to acquire the necessary herbs and brews to revive the dormant fossil is to pay through the ears, the only way to accomplish the feat according to the devils and demons handbook, page 13, paragraph 7.

Then, when the Dragon has been brought to the proper place and the necessary chants and incantations have been wrought, it will arise, surrounded by a group of all the frosh and make its way from Curtiss Field to its field of battle.

There it will watch over the safety of Drexel gladiators till the final game, whereupon it will be put to its glorious end by the cheering throngs in typical Drexel style.

An announcement will appear soon in the court as to the time and place for constructing our mascot. Everyone is invited to help tach a bone in place, or sew the outer skin on him. Any and all suggestions should be placed in the "Triangle" mailbox.

A Memorial

SOMETIMES it does a person a lot of good to look back. Not too often, but often enough that he or she does not get too drawn into the petty whirlpool of present times. Particularly interesting was to leaf through Triangles published four years ago. In there, we saw in particular an editorial written memorializing the death in action of the first Drexel student, George Nannos. The deep feeling and inward sensation of foreboding seems a little hard to understand now. We read the daily reports of our past friends and former classmates with perhaps a dismissal statement of "Too bad," or "That's really tough." There's more to it than that. These boys have gone over to foreign soil, hating and fearing death, which is an inevitable part of war. Have they given their lives because they were forced to? It hardly seems plausible. It probably takes more heroism and the well-known quantity, or quality, known plainly as guts to face death than to duck it. These boys have shown their heroism and belief in the American way of life, differing for each individual, by giving their lives. We must remember this and must remember these boys.

The editorial mentioned earlier in this article stated that some plans were under way for some form of memorial to be dedicated to these boys. Four years have passed and the ranks of departed heroes have swelled considerably, but still no action has been taken.

Why wait 'til the war has ended. With peace, we shall probably be glad to forget many phases of the war and new interests will seem to obliterate the memory of those who have gone.

Why not set up some sort of a memorial now? Either a plaque with inscribed names, or a scholarship fund set aside for future students. It's not too early to act now. We who will have part in the peace of tomorrow will want to remember what has happened today. Some form of permanent memorial should be set up.

Let's Go Team!

DURING last year's football season there was quite a bit of reminiscing about the "good old days" when Drexel had a football team. Alright, we have a team again; are we going to support it? It's true that we did lose our first game, but never the less we were in there fighting. This Saturday the team will play Lehigh at Lehigh. If this were to be a home game, student support would be plentiful. For some reason the general attitude seems to be that it is too much trouble to travel all the way to Bethlehem just to see a Drexel football game. But is this the school spirit that we are trying to revive? Transportation facilities are available, via the Reading Railroad, and not too expensive either. The game promises to be a good one now that a very inexperienced squad has had some practice in actual competition, so let's all catch the 11:10 train to Bethlehem and give our team the support that is so well deserved.

Double Dates

WHY, with so few social organizations in the school, must we have a jumbled-up social program such as exists for tonight?

Three different organizations have their individual dances planned. Someone has fallen down terrifically in signing up for dates. We have such a different proportion of schedules now and our activities have to be keyed to this. Why stretch the already tight wire tighter?

One, or perhaps all, of these scheduled events for tonight are going to suffer. In addition to that, there will be an inevitable antagonism aroused between these conflicting groups, which won't aid a general cooperative school spirit.

Every organization depends on students outside of the group to support its social functions.

Something is definitely lacking in so far as the signing up of dates is considered. All social functions should be signed up in the Dean of Men or Directress of Women's office.

Let's get together.

Football Luminary

6 o'clock to Apologies

A new rule has been given to fraternity presidents by the administration concerning admittance of women to fraternity houses. A violent reactionary movement seems to be forming. The merits of the question cannot be discussed here—pro or con. More definite plans are in the making after consultation with numerous faculty members. Nothing more can be said, but the reverberations may be startling.

When I, as an individual, cast a ballot, I wish to vote in a private manner where no impartiality may be shown by those conducting the elections. Monday, the Women's Student Government Association conducted an election in the court to fill a vacancy created on that governing board. It seems as though those handling ballots, also handled a leadpipe campaign for a certain candidate. If such campaigning is necessary for valued votes let it be done, but not by the registering personnel in charge of balloting. These responsible persons should be impartial. Why not in this past W.S.G.A. election? It might be well for this organization to heed some observations by the writer concerning Men's Student Government elections, printed under this byline last week.

A conflict between the editors of the "Triangle" and the acting president of Men's Student Council has caused an inadvertent omission from this issue of the names of the nominees for student offices. Elections are held Monday. All voters will first know of the nominees when they receive their ballot. Certainly they should know something about the candidates before casting their vote. This mistake may lead to many possibilities for crookedness. Someone, I know not who, was at fault.

Following the disclosure of theft at the Athletic field we expect to see some sandlot team arrayed in bright new regalia, fresh paint, et al. It may be advisable for the Athletic Association, with its excellent financial status, to secure some student or guardian to live in the field house. In this instance such a plan would have paid for itself.

Following elections by all sororities of prom representatives, Committee meetings are about to be held to formulate plans for an I.F. Sorority Ball. It is the hope of many members of fraternities and sororities that definite plans will be approved by all those concerned. (I hope so!)

Note to all sororities!! Regardless of what you may think, the fraternities on campus are not going about cutting each other's throat. Cooperation between fraternities is at its best at present. Of course, there will always be necessary some competition, but to spike some malicious rumors following an I.F. council meeting, there is definitely a decided spirit of cooperation.

Note to rumor-mongers. The Lambda Chi Alpha house, because of its recent successful dances, has been named a stronghold of TKE-ism. Let it be known that the TKE's are grateful, appreciative, invited guests and enjoy the fraternalism of these affairs.

• Alpha Sigma Alpha

Hi Gals: This is the first column of the year, but ye olde A.S.A. editor promises that it won't be the last.

Our Alpha Sig season started with a weekend at the Lodge. Neither rain nor a cold upstairs could dampen our spirits and, before we forget it, we would like to give a long hand clasp to Marion Hautz for her expert chairmanship; and an extra round of applause to Jean Dougherty and Betty Robinson for their excellent K.P. Our opinion of these Bus. Ads and their cooking has risen considerably. Alums Nancy "Gumdrop" Gundrum and Ginny Hulton were there to join in the fun. Betty Barringer, president of A.S.A. two years ago, dropped in on Sunday to "hen" over old times.

We would like to welcome into Alpha Sigma Alpha our new initiates: Evelyn Breierly, Connie Pennypacker, Dottie Winger, Thelma Rattler, and Doreas Bates.

Fall rushing brought us Jeanne Kellet, Nell Durst, Clara Jean Pegan and Helen O. Harvey, as pledges. Welcome girls. We are very glad to have you with us.

In our marriage and engagement column, we have several. Inge Rihm and Betty Robinson have plighted their troths over the summer to Warren Harwick and Walt, respectively. Roberta Butterworth was married to Sgt. West at Old St. David's, Radnor. Dana Davis acted as maid of honor. We wish Bobbie were with us also, so we could tell her how much we enjoyed her candy at the Lodge last week-end. Delicious—but, ah, soooo fattening. Their poor, poor figures!!!

Nancy Keene and Jeanne Kennedy are out in industry this term, but they both can't wait to get back to school?? Betty Russell informed us that she is a member of the "Flying Platoon" at Gimbel's. After exhaustive research on this subject, we decided that she is one of several girls that fly from one department to another. Bobbie B. West is spending her industry period in the personnel department at Altman's, New York. Betty McFadden is working during this term in a draftsman's office and enjoying it immensely (he must be tall, dark, and handsome) that is the reason. She calls herself a Junior White Collar Worker now.

*Well, gals (and those guys who are interested), this will be all for now. However, next week, same time, same station, same column (only different words).

SHINE ON HARVEST MOON.

*Plans are under way for our annual Harvest Moon Dance to be held in the student building on November 18, so keep that date open and plan to have a gala evening with the Alpha

Last week end we had the pleasure of having Ballard B. Smith with us. "Bal," as he is known best, graduated with the class of 1944. Among others who have been back to the house in the past week were Tom Abell, Bill Spare, Joseph Michels, Dick Ashmeed, Pete Marvel and Bill Slater, all of these boys left Drexel for the Armed Forces. Stanley Baronasky and Jim Daniels have left within the last month.

The Apple Pie "Pie Krust" will be coming out in the next few weeks, in a special edition featuring the Christmas season and it has been dedicated to our boys in the service.

Brother Vince Giardo, the house manager, has announced a new project ROW on page 3, col. 1 for the decoration of the house. During the summer term the house was painted from top to bottom. Now Brother Ciardo wishes to redecorate the game room.

WARNING TO FRESHMAN MEN:

William Kuchler has been chosen new secretary for the Apple Pies. Edward Zuzeler has been appointed Sergeant-at-arms along with his other duties as social chairman. Ed has announced that there will be a house dance October 28th and a Frat banquet November 5th.

With rushing over, the bids out, and new men pledged, the members of Apple Pie sleep once again wrapped in arms of Amorphosis, instead of being kicked by him.

• Lambda Chi Alpha

Pledging season at Lambda Chi had a successful conclusion last Monday evening, when four new pledges were added to the Chapter. This brings the present pledge class to ten members. The new fellows this term are: Frank Bash, Gerald Cooper, Herb Fadely, Bill Friedrichs, John Liggins, Ford MacElvain, and Tom Nawelinski. The pledges from terms before are: Tom Healey, Larry Herr, and Elmer Goetz.

The Ping Pong Tournament is well under way and the Lambda Chi's are in there "padding." The opening game with Kappa Phi resulted in a 3-2 defeat for the brothers, but on the nineteenth, DeVow and Lathlaen came from behind to win the deciding doubles set and, consequently, the match from the Apple Pies.

Last weekend was devoid of social activity, but Saturday the brothers are intending to support Drexel's football team by traveling to Lehigh in DeVow's chariot. A probability curve has been plotted and it has been found that the gasoline will probably run out three miles before Philadelphia is reached on the return trip.

• Sigma Sigma Sigma

Congratulations to our new pledges Kitty Dunkel, Jean Talley, and Kathie Velykis. New members as of Tuesday evening are Shirley Goss and Mary Lou Yost.

Betty Hedges says "hello" from Washington, D. C. For those of you who have missed "Hedges," this is her Industry Period. We're looking forward to having her back next term.

Didgie Solenberg, now Mrs. Hiehman, a graduate of '44, is back in Lansdowne. She is now teaching at Lansdowne's old rival, Upper Darby.

Florence Seiders has left school until January because of illness. We miss you, "Flossie." Get well and hurry back.

Plans for our Tri Swing, November 4th, are rushing right along. We have loads of surprises in the bag.

• Theta Chi

Monday evening at 6 p.m. the pledge dinner for the eligible June freshmen was held. Eight neophytes were there, namely: J. Bostwick, R. Falcone, H. Fourtunis, C. Hebler, E. Hess, H. Riester, W. Shone, and D. Taylor. This brings our pledge group to a grand total of fourteen. Previously pledged were H. Bicking, E. DuBois, H. Sterons, and R. Whittaker. After the fine dinner prepared by our reliable cook, Forrest, the pledging ceremony took place. This is a truly fine group of men, and during the next few weeks a marvelous time will be had in instructing them as to their duties and obligations to the fraternity. As has been the custom in past terms, the pledges will be recognized by their painters' jackets and their red and white elliptical ΘΧ pledge pins.

Since the start of the fall term, the house has been buzzing with activity. The usual rushing functions have been held: the smoker, open house, the tea party, and the invites to dinner. All aforementioned functions were a tremendous success—a truly hungry group of June frosh. From the general consensus of everyone at the smoker, the entertainment was tops. The magician who, incidentally, is touring the camps with the U.S.O. service units, was excellent, in spite of his dry humor.

Beside the various scheduled activities, innumerable bull sessions were held by the upperclassmen—Brother

Men

If you smile at him, he thinks you're flirting.

If you don't flirt, he thinks you're an iceberg.

If you let him kiss you, he wishes you were more reserved.

If you don't, he'll seek consolation elsewhere.

If you flatter him, he thinks you're simple.

If you don't, he thinks you don't understand him.

If you talk of love and romance he thinks you're asking to marry him.

If you're a good girl, he wonders why you're not human.

If you return his caress, he doesn't want you to.

If you let him make love to you, he thinks you are cheap.

If you don't, he'll go with another girl who will.

If you go out with other fellows, he thinks you are fickle.

If you don't, he thinks no one will have you.

MEN, God bless them, they don't know what the they want!

'N' I'm not kidding!

Haines, featuring his weights; Brothers Butler and Eschelman handing out their usual line, with Brothers Fenton, Hofstoedter, and Sheetz taking it all in.

Tomorrow night, features a ding-dong Hallowe'en Party, with cornstalks and pumpkins as trimmings. Anything is liable to happen and it probably will. The customary games will be played to mark the occasion when the goblins, witches, and wolves are out to get everyone. The affair is strictly "soup and fish"—(plaid shirts and slacks). Little has to be said that the brothers, pledges, and their dates will have a rip-roaring time with midnight set as the time when the goblins and witches leave the house for another year.

Region Three of Theta Chi fraternity will hold a meeting in Bethlehem on October 28 at 10 a.m. The conference will be adjourned to allow everyone to see the Drexel Tech-Lehigh game. Representing our chapter will be Brothers Butler and Hofstoedter. After the game, the Brothers will resume the discussions which were interrupted.

• Delta Sigma Epsilon

Hallowe'en, can't you sniff it in the air? Black, black witches riding high and fat orange pumpkins—just combine these cautiously according to directions and you will be delighted at the results—the PUMPKIN PROM. On this memorable evening of October 27, the Student Building will be shaking, even quaking, with mystery and melody! The Delts are madly hustling about, getting their formals into shape for the big night. What a thrill to wear our evening gowns again!

Greetings to our newcomers: Allie Elliott, Eleanor Hardeastle, and Margie Warmech. They've joined the ranks of the gay Delta Sigs.

Sue Austin, Polly McSparren, Annie Mitchell, Janet Conrad, Helen Makoid, Helen Obringer, and Jeanann Bressler represented our chapter at Province meeting in Pittsburgh. Some startling new ideas were exchanged, business was discussed, and a really gay weekend was enjoyed by all, with the result that our representatives arrived home Monday ever so enthusiastic, but looking slightly haggard.

Our poor little "Stinky" Freidel is anxiously crossing off the days 'til she bids farewell to practice teaching and once more takes up life at D.I.T.

By the way, Birthday Greetings to Janet Sensenig—she can vote now, kids! (Dottie Brown, too.)

The decorations and posters around school are the result of the efforts of Gertrude Garfield and Shirley Kraft, plus the dance committee. Congratulations, girls, for a super job!

We are happy to welcome Miss Forstner as a new co-sponsor along with our ever-faithful Mrs. Ulrich.

Doris Bedrossian received a beautiful Phi Chi pin this weekend from Marshall Rumbaugh of Temple Med School. It is quite dazzling.

• Alumni Dance

Once again the Drexel Club of Philadelphia successfully entertained the freshman class at their traditional alumni dance last Friday. The congenial welcome extended all by William Beister, President of the Alumni Association, started the evening off on a happy key-note.

The frosh girls were delighted to see the overwhelming number of men that came en masse to help keep the dance floor polished. In fact, they are still talking about it.

Music was supplied by the many name bands of the day by way of the recorder, and novelty dances not only broke the ice, but formed many new friendships. The cider and doughnuts served at intermission gave welcome refreshments to the happy dancers.

With the announcement that dorm girls must return to the dormitory, came the realization that the dance was ending. Reluctant goodbyes brought another successful alumni party and dance to a close.

• The Newman Club

On Wednesday, October 18, the Newman Club of Drexel Institute held the second meeting of the current term. A large group of new members was initiated and Mary Wiedman, president of the organization, delivered an address on the life and virtues of the saintly patron of the club.

Father O'Loughlin, moderator, spoke briefly on the problem of Catholic students and emphasized the necessity of remaining close to their religion. Following the meeting, the new members became acquainted over cokes and pretzels. The meeting terminated in good old Newman Club style.

Mr. J. H. Billings, Head of the M.E. Dept., presented the advantages of joining the National Branch of the A.S.M.E., and Professor K. W. Riddle, Honorary Chairman of the Drexel Student Branch, presented the advantages of becoming a member of the Drexel Student Branch.

Mr. Frank Ptacek, Chairman of the Jr. Sec. of the A.S.M.E., was unable to attend, but he did send an invitation to all members of the Drexel Student Branch to attend the November 8 meeting of the Jr. Sec.

Mr. Robert J. Riddle of the Kellet Aircraft Corp. and Mr. William P. Moore of the DoAll Philadelphia Co., both of whom were guest speakers last year, were present as guests at the Smoker.

A film entitled "Manufacture of the 30 Caliber Carbine" was shown, after which refreshments were served. Another meeting is planned for the end of November.

Boris Kudravetz, chairman of the meetings committee, planned and presented an excellent meeting which was duly appreciated by a large percentage of the members of the A.S.M.E. The large turnout was a result of the outstanding work that has been done by Joe Kauffman during the recent membership drive. Joe is now acting chairman of the membership committee while Elmer Goetz is out in industry.

Dragons Drop Opener, 20-6

Dowd Sprints 41 Yards for Score
Bloomsburg Dominates 2nd Half

In the Dragon-predominated first half of last week's game, Drexel kicked off to Bloomsburg and the ball never came over the midfield stripe until Drexel had taken over and scored. Leading up to this score, a sensational swivel-hipping 41-yard run by Dick Dowd, was a drive by the Dragon deep in Bloomsburg territory which was stymied on the 15-yard stripe. After a few plays, Bloomsburg kicked off to their own 45, from where the Drexel eleven drew first blood. On the scoring play Dowd took the ball from the tailback position, faked a pass, then cut off tackle, shook off a few would-be tacklers, and headed for the sidelines and then to pay-dirt. In trying for the conversion, Dowd hit the cross-bar, leaving the score 6-0.

In the second period Bloomsburg got their chance to score, when after they had punted from mid-field, a Drexel player was found guilty of clipping and the ball was awarded to Bloomsburg on the Drexel 20-yard line. From here, the Williams-to-Jenkins passing combination of Bloomsburg clicked, and the score was 6-6. In Bloomsburg's attempt for the point, Drexel men swarmed in to prevent the pass play which was begun, and there was no score. Soon after Bloomsburg kicked off to Drexel, Dowd made a precarious position into a sizeable gain when, back to punt, he received a bad pass from center and was forced to run. Again eluding the onrushing opposing line, he skirted his right end for 25 yards to carry the ball to the mid-field stripe. This run went for nil, however, for the Drexel attack was stopped at this point.

The first running play of the second half was what proved to be the most decisive play of the game. Drexel kicked off to Bloomsburg and the ball was carried to the 29. The fateful play was next reeled off as Williams of Bloomsburg took the pass from center, ran to the right, cut inside our defending left end, and then proceeded to outrace the pursuing Drexel team to the goal line. This time Bloomsburg managed to convert with Hershberger splitting the uprights. The score now stood at 13-6.

Bloomsburg scored again in the final period, when a pass by Dowd was intercepted at mid-field and run all the way to the Drexel 15. From there, Bloomsburg carried to a score on straight running plays, Greenberg making the final plunge. Bloomsburg again made the conversion, as Greenberg made the successful placement.

Neither team could use their fast-breaking or passing plays with much success because of the wet field and generally unfavorable weather conditions.

Kappa Phis Lead In Ping-Pong

Interfraternity Ping Pong resumed play last Tuesday, Oct. 19, with the Lambda Chi's topping the Apple Pies 3 to 2. The Lambda Chi's took 2 out of the three singles and in the first doubles De Vow and Lathlaen of Lambda Chi scored seven points in a row to take a 22-20 decision for the first doubles. The second doubles, the Apple Pies won.

In the second match of the night, the Kappa Phi's triumphed 4 to 1 over the Theta Chi's. The Kappa Phi's won the three singles and split the doubles.

Last Tuesday the Theta Chi's beat the Lambda Chi's 3 to 2 in a very exciting match. The doubles were split and the Theta Chi's won two out of three singles. In the other match the Kappa Phi's easily tripped the Apple Pies, who were without their number-one man, Stan Baronowski. They won two out of three of the singles and thus split the doubles.

The following men took part in the matches:

Lambda Chi: Don Conklin, Don De Vow, Bob Lathlaen and John Weaver.

Theta Chi: Tom Butler, Bob Eschelman, Art Haines, and John Wagner.

Apple Pies: Stan Baronowski, Phil Egan, Frank Borger, Gordon Angevine, Hubert Carroll and Howard Cassaday.

Kappa Phi—Larry Freeman, Stan Meyer, Marvin Kimmell, Meyer Koladner, Stormy Rosenberg, Larry Teco-sky and Wilbur Schlossen.

Pep Rally to Revive Old Spirit

Tuesday, October 31, is the date. The time is one to two. The place is the auditorium. A big pep rally is to take place, complete with McMains and his men, Miss Forstner and her fighting Drexelites, the R.O.T.C. band, and those effervescent cheerleaders.

The Haverford game November 4 is the first home game this year, so come out, you upperclassmen, and get some practice in lifting your vocal cords to old, familiar cheers. You freshmen, who don't already know the cheers, memorize the following so that you may get right in there and yell with the upperclassmen next Tuesday:

Fight Song

Fight on for Drexel,
We've got the stuff we need to win
this game.

We're gonna fight on for Drexel,
Take the Dragon on to fame.
March down the field, boys:
The Gold and Blue is on another
spree,
We're gonna fight, fight, fight for
Drexel Tech,
On to Victory!

Intra-Athletic

The intramural program for women is about to launch into its fall sport season. The Intra-Athlon Tournament is made up of seven teams, the five sororities each represented (with their teams) and two independent squads, one for commuters and one for Dorm girls. This fall, Anne Hilgar is going to head the independent commuters. The rest of the groups have not yet decided on their representative for the board.

The W. A. A. sponsors this program. It was begun last fall and carried throughout the three terms. In the spring at the Women's Athletic Honor Banquet a shield is to be presented to the winning team. Last year it went to the independent commuters.

In the absence of Marilyn Barr, vice-president of W.A.A., Terry Engle, a member of the board, is carrying on the responsibility as chairman of the Intra-Athlon board for this fall.

Plans are being made as to the sports offered for competition and schedules will be posted. The first event has been decided on as volleyball.

OFF SIDE

Off to Bloomsburg—after dashing into 30th Street Station that drenching evening, your editor found himself with a two-minute leeway to catch the train to Sunbury (from whence we took a Greyhound to Bloomsburg). Once on the train the inevitable card games commenced, with this bridge-minded soul dragging his partner below the class of the McMains-Budd combo. Mr. Budd will soon finish his thesis on "Why Sports Editors Should Give Up Bridge," to be presented on this page in a future issue. The big event of the evening came when, after a five-minute stop in Harrisburg, the team was minus four linemen, including two first-string tackles. These men were later accounted for, when they arrived in Sunbury a few hours after the rest of the team. Staying overnight in Sunbury, the team left the Hotel on Saturday morning and had the conventional pre-game meal. At noon the gang was on the bus and on to Bloomsburg in weather that held little hope for clearing. Arriving an hour before game-time, the team got into uniform and prepared for the engagement.

Slants on the game—Last week we said that the result of this Bloomsburg tussle would indicate our future success or failure—after watching the players, one can say that the chances are very good for taking the next three games, if the team can get into better condition and play 60 minutes of the football they played during the first half of this game. There was a seeming let-down during the second half, which may have been due to that 71-yard touchdown run on the first play. It must be said that it is very hard to play the full length during your first game without a letup.

Coeds Downed In Opener; 2-1

Newcomer, Dana Davis, Scores First
As Coach Forstner's Hockeyettes
Drop Heartbreaker in Last Minute

The Dragonettes graciously conceded their intercollegiate hockey opener to the fair pink-clad and black-hosed maids of Rosemont College in a heart-breaking climax of a tight game. The Tech-ettes held a jittery but satisfying 1-0 lead at the half, when Dana Davis sank a beauty into the net, and were apparently set to continue their bang-up ball.

However, an inspired Rosemont eleven charged down the field threateningly and repeatedly in the second half, and finally slammed a slanting ball into the well-defended DIT net. Unfortunately, they repeated themselves in the closing 60 seconds and stole the game from the scrapping co-eds of Anthony J. It is no reflection on Drexel's defense, however, for titan-haired Anne Hilgar played a stellar role in Drexel's cage, but a Maginot Line can be pierced sometimes. It was the failure of the offense in crucial moments and the able opposition of Rosemont's 6' 1" goal protector that sank Tech's hopes last Wednesday.

There is broad foundation for future hope anyway. Each Drexel lass turned in a commendable, determined, and capable performance. Shirley MacMillan—all-Middle Atlantic—played her usual spirited, hard game, but was hard-pressed for honors by fast freshmen: B. J. Cassell, Shirley Russell, and Martie Parke. Terry Engle and Marion Barron also played a more than satisfactory game. With another grain of luck, the Dragon might have snatched the opener out of the fire. At any rate, our money is on him and fighting co-eds in the next fray.

L.W.—B. J. Cassell	R.W.—T. Engle	L.B.—F. LeBlanc
L.L.—F. Russell	L.H.—M. Parke	R.B.—M. Barron
C.—J. Schoff	C.H.—S. MacMillan	G.—Anne Hilgar
R.I.—D. Davis	R.H.—M. Elbertson

On the hockey field—Revived after eight long years on the shelf, the MacMillan Landon Button is being sported by little sister Shirley. The success of the hockeyettes this Wednesday was about the same as that of Kansas' favorite son. Seeing the Dragonettes through thick and thin has been Mabel. Who is Mabel? The gal is none other than that blue and gold bedecked Viennese doll, who has faithfully stood at the sidelines for the past three seasons of Dragonette sports.

Tomorrow afternoon many Drexel football enthusiasts will be in the stands to watch the Dragon eleven meet the gridders of Lehigh University. Neither team can look to their previous week's score for any indication of scoring power. Lehigh took a drubbing at the hands of Lafayette, 44-0, while Drexel was on the short end of a 20-6 score with Bloomsburg. One can little tell just what type of ball the Dragons will exhibit when they take the field with much more experience than they had last week. Right now the movement is well under way for a mass-migration of Drexel boosters to "Get to Lehigh." Probable line-up:
