Full-Costumed String Band Will Perform

An all-star show will be presented next Thursday night in the auditorium that wants to work on the Freshman Council orchestra. They have selected a representative from each fraternity that wants to perform in the Court in the near future.

Freshman Council Plans Big Things

In an attempt to achieve civic cooperation, the Freshman Council has been organized. It is working to present an all-fraternity concert that will be held at 8 P.M. on Thursday, May 7, in the auditorium.

The spark of the show will be the presentation of a prize winner in the recent Mummers' parade, the feature attraction. The concert will be in full costume, including a 10-foot broadsword. The Hamburg Band is one of the oldest in the city and was the first office to record "Four Leaf Clover.

Supporting this "little" band will be a feature of the concert. The field, light baritone, was runner-up in Frank Paulino's recent contest. They will hold the act at the Click. He sings such numbers as "Night and Day," and "Road to Mandalay." Two students from West Chester State Teachers College's gym team will do a hand balancing act. Charles Daves and Robert Koons will do the unbelievable stunts that shouldn't be missed.

Many students know "Mickey Capps," who attends school here at Drexel. Formerly with Milton Berle's USO tour, he will perform his "Mickey Capps" show. Mickey sings and plays novelty music.

A talented assembly of members of her court. Remember to vote for one of the first four girls the night of the dance. The other three girls will serve if the queen is chosen. The Interfraternity Council will sponsor the dance. The queen will be chosen the night of the dance from among the female students. Your vote will be the key to the queen's success.

The Interfraternity Council is pleased to announce that it will present an Interfraternity Council program and the soloists will be Mr. Harry Martyn, who has sung with the Philadelphia Male Quartet, and the Philadelphia Male Quartet, and the Interfraternity Council will sponsor the dance. Dear Editor:

I can see the headlines now—"Students Get Their Vote On." The only reason we are permitted to rummage through Drexel's bulletin boards is because Mr. Anderson has mailed out these ballots.

I almost think we may have a bit of a chance. First, I am flattered that Mr. Polanskeyx thinks I have time to go to the book required in English 25 five years ago. Well, a little time for my freedom, I think. And I do read with too much initiative. All is not the book's being five years old. I'm afraid I don't find it pathetic.

Second, I learned with surprise that the dirty had been accepted as mine. The poems were submitted last term. I distinctly recall writing "not original"—whether I meant it was or not—"Willie." I cannot say; and I am not.

I first came across "Willie," in the songster that appeared in the Triangle, approximately two years ago in a popular magazine. We were in our sophomore year at the time. But Colonel Stenman seems to have been unimpressed with it, because I got a letter from him.

One more thing, the poetry that I write (I do) and write with my Allegheny is a on a slightly higher level than placed in my mail box.

The moral of the story is: Do not write fillers for the Triangle.

Dear Editor:

Debbie: It is difficult to write fillers for the Triangle.

P.S. My case comes up in Court on Monday, April 18. Tickets now just $1.01; near door—$1.01. A limited number may be purchased from a business manager, J. Desant."
Miss Kitty to Give Fashion Show Here

Miss Olive Berry, College Fashion Director for the Simplicity Pattern Company, is presenting an educational program and fashion show using Drexel students as models, on May 3, at the auditorium at 1:30 p.m. All students in Home Economics, clothing, and art classes are required to attend this assembly. Miss Caroline Komis, Educational Director of Simplicity Pattern Company and two members of her staff will also be present.

A completely rounded wardrobe of seventy pieces covers every type of costume a college girl's schedule requires: suits, casual dresses for home economics and sports, blouses, afternoon and evening dresses.

Highlights include a driftwood suit worn in terracewood and brown permanent-crease cotton and a black broadtail coat, a background for bright jackets, a net cap collar and an eyelet embroidered overskirt . . . printed handkerchief suit worn in terra cotta . . . beak-breasted gray shantung jacket with patterned lining . . . a white snit or long-sleeved shirt . . . a black dress suit, a background for a black jacket, a gray shantung jersey bathing suit worn with a terra cotta belt and broadtail coat . . . a black basic dress . . . a black jacket with a white petticoat and matching underskirt worn with a black basic dress . . . a black basic dress with a net cape collar and an eyelet embroidered overskirt . . . a black and white striped denim beach bag . . . a black jacket made in terra cotta . . . a black basic dress with a terra cotta petticoat and matching underskirt.

Arrangements are being made to have the program televised and broadcast over radio and in the newspapers. Any students who are interested are urged to attend as there will be an admission charge.

Senti-Greek Week Will Open with Dance at Club Cyanides

At a combined meeting of the men's and women's social classes, it was decided to hold all the senti-Greek activities in the latter part of Senior Week. Frothylities will be held on Thursday evening with a Dimanche at the Gryned Club, all expenses of the meting to be borne by the class treasurer, the tickets will be sold at the class treasury. The price is $1.75 per couple. On Friday, following commencement, arrangements for both Dimanche and Frothylities will be made and the following will be furnished:

Besides the fashion show, which will be modeled by the students, Miss Berry is also scheduled to lecture on "The Home Economist in the Story of Pattern Making." She is an authority on clothing construction and brings to life what qualifies her for the interesting work she directs. She received training in Home Economics at Mount Albert Girls' School in Canada and holds a B.S. degree from Teachers College, New York. She is the second woman in her profession to have her name on the New York City Register of Professional Designers. She is the second woman engaged in pattern design in the United States. She has also served as a term professor in the retailing as director of fashion promotions for large department stores. More recently, she has styled and presented fashion shows in high schools and colleges. This fall she completed a tour of Canada where she introduced her company's educational program in the larger cities.

Men—Keep Activity Cards Up-to-Date

All men who have originally filled out and been issued an activity card on the basis of a student's sophomore year to have him billed at the end of the semester will have an opportunity to keep their cards up to date. The men in question who are considered to be responsible for keeping them up to date, will have their cards billed for the following year's use. These cards will be credited to the student's telegram number as a part of the card. A reminder will be sent to the card holders on the last day of the semester.

Men's Headquarters will be a center of information for freshmen interested in men's activities. The headquarters will be in the Men's Office.

What changes or additions have to be made in order to keep your card in good standing? If you have ever had your card printed at Men's Headquarters, you have already been credited with these changes. If you have not had your card printed, you are responsible for making these changes yourself.

The participation in the card program is voluntary, but it is strongly recommended that you keep your cards up to date.

Drexel Girls to Model in Store

Thirty girls chosen from Drexel's advanced clothing classes will model their own "creations" at a fashion show to be held in the store of the Drexel Mansion Company, on Friday, May 3, at 8:30 p.m. The event will be sponsored by the Model Association and the Eastern College Officers' Association.

The types of costumes will range from play suits and afternoon costumes to fancy tea dresses and evening gowns. The fashions and patterns were all supplied by Straschel and Chubbett.

Claudia Marks Another Crop For Thespians

On April 23 and 24, under the capable direction of Bob Teter of the Main Line Players, Horace and Alpha Pi Omegas presented as their second annual repertory, the Broadway hit, "Claudia." This year's play, undoubtedly the best to date, displayed a wealth of talent which was enthusiastically acclaimed by an appreciative audience. With a small, a wide range of emotions, ranging from the gaunt to laughter to tears, was professionally handled by the excellent cast which included: Janet Kepner, starred as Claudia. Helen Taylor in the part of the straightened, Helen Taylor portrayed Mrs. Brown, Ronald Silverman as Jerry Seymore, Ed Rusina as Fritzi, Doris Tarkanino as Bertha, Eleanor Hilde as Madame Durbeck and Josephson at the Pennsylvania Hotel last.

The story of Claudia, a young immature wife who goes through three acts of growing up, formed a fine basis for an enjoyable evening and many of the lines will be remembered and quoted by students who attended. Perhaps the finest scene in the performance was the slightly sentimental sequence where the innocent Claudia, in the presence of a total stranger, waves hello to her indignant husband. The proper degree of coquetry really put this scene across.

Because of its dramatic success in this production, an after-credit scene has been added. It is scheduled to be titled "Arsenic and Old Lace" for early spring.
THE STAGE

The Engineering View-Point

Sweetheart

by Miller

It was love at first sight between Patz and I when we first met in the Spring of 1942. Not a day passed that I didn't look forward to having her there in my life. We were both so eager to start to chat at lunch time. We were separated that fall when the curtain went up (unusually prompt for Drexel) I found my cynical soul loathing head and generally falling into the spirit of the amusing play. The fresh and vibrant thinking displayed marks this as the finest effort of the student body on Drexel's stage. When you have seen it, you have seen the whole evening a most pleasant one.

I don't look back, but Helen Teter's portrayal of the gilfriend drew my attention as a marvelous job of a very difficult part. She took on the added years as a veteran performer. Death is a hard thing to handle. Her bravado and fighting spirit were so real and dramatic.

WSGA Officers and Board Are Elected

Elections return to Women's Student Government Association election time once again. Last year the two seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore ran for the fourteen positions governing body.

The new officers of Women's Stu government are: Betty Ann Mansfield, president; Carol Swanson, vice-president; Wanda Uhl, secretary; and Marie Kelly, treasurer. Bill Stanton, Tom Plunkett, and Grace Schneider, and Wanda Uhl are the new board members.

Snagging in to succeed Oliga Manecke, who is a junior, Wanda Uhl, who has been on experience, two years, will be the member at large. Betty Mansfield is the captain on the women's basketball team this year. She is from Pennsylvania. The new captain is the Delta Sigma Ep elled for her participation in extracurricular activities.

Building a large portion of her time between W.S.G.A. and the piano, Patsy Macon, a sophomore, "Able" as president of the freshman women's class, acted as the Freshman class president. The year before, Betty Mansfield was the captain of the softball team this year. The team is from Pennsylvania.

Elaine Mark, a sophomore, has been at home on the hockey field all season. With three years of experience, she is a member of the team. Elaine is from Drexel Hill. Her attention, Elaine also manages the Student Council and the Y.W.C.A. She is a member of the drama group and the Newman Club and the Y.W.C.A. She is a member of the Newman Club.

President of the women's sophomore class, Elaine Schneider, is another new board member. Elaine lives in Drexel Hill. She is also a Home Economics student, a texturemerchandising major. The Pan-Hellenic Council and Y.W.C.A. Cabi nets have both benefited from Barbara's services. For two years she has sparked the women's swimming teams to greater heights with her breaststroke and free style laurels. Barbara has been reelected captain of the team.

A lean and hungry-looking team from the Blue and Gold was ready to make a move in the first half. The Dragons scored their first goal late in the period, but the Blue and Gold responded with a quick strike to tie the game. The second half saw the Blue and Gold take control, scoring two more goals to put the game out of reach. The final score was 3-0 in favor of the Blue and Gold.
Andy Andrews was born in the deep, deep south, Baltimore to be exact. He attended Baltimore Polytechnic Institute and was graduated in Feb., 1942. While there, he was sports editor for the school paper and also received his preliminary training in lacrosse. He belonged to a fierce lacrosse team which they nicknamed the "Beat-up Five."

After a few months in industry, Andy entered the halls of D.I.T., to pursue a course in Mechanical Engineering. His first experience in collegiate sports was had when he donned the Drexel football uniform in 1942.

The next year, lacrosse beckoned to him, so with stick in hand he reported to Coach Austin. By the end of the season Andy had really made use of his experience and talent while playing the goalie position. It was in the following year that he was elected to play in the annual North-South game, which was played in Baltimore.

This year, Andy is again playing the goalie position. He acts the part of a field general while directing the down field play, selling up the defense, and spotting the uncovered opportunities. Although no heavyweight, his stellar playing ability will make Walker one of the key men throughout the season by all our staunch opponents.

This will be Andy's last year at D.I.T., for come June, he will have joined the ranks of Drexel alumni. Andy was not only active in sports but he has also attained much recognition as a student, his other activities at school being a member of the Varsity Club, Tau Beta Pi, Pi Tau Sigma, and a member of Blue Key.

The golf team opened its season Saturday, April 12, with a match at the Philadelphia Cricket Club. With John Buggs as the only returning letterman, the positions on the team were wide open. However, with 16 candidates out for the team, the situation looks more encouraging. Under the guidance of amateur coach Joe Kalinowski, the team is slowly rounding into shape.

Saturday saw the linksmen lose to a strong Pennsylvania team. Low score for the day was a 28 on the tough Cricket Club course, turned in by Roy Lowrey, Penn's number 2 man. This score was closely followed by 2 pairs of 80's by Penn's number 1 man, Jack Kittle, and Drexel's Stan McLarin.

The following Wednesday, April 19, saw the team traveling to La Salle's home course at the Melrose Country Club. Here they again ran up against stiff opposition, losing to the tune of 1 to 1. Low holl scores were shared by La Salle's number 3 man, Hal Grewick, and our own Frank Dreyer, playing his first match at number 1. They each earned 79's.

The Junior Varsity's spirited rally, in the closing innings of last Saturday afternoon's baseball game at Drexel Field, fell short and raised them to take a 10 to 7 setback from the Scharlauwine roaming. Final inning strategy by getting Coach Bud, who relieved McMains of his duties for the day, failed to produce the much needed run to tie the game and a possible final victory.

The starting pitcher berth for the Dragons was given to Waltman but his lack of control and poor fielding by his teammates gave the Dickenson-reached team an early lead of 2 to 0. Waltman's wildness was replaced by Kulp's calmness on the mound in the fourth inning. Kulp allowed only two hits for three innings on the hill; a run being charged against him for errors on the part of his fielders. Eisele, who was on second after a hit and an error, the remaining distance to pay dirt.

Seven singles scattered over the field in rapid succession in the seventh tallied five more runs. Westling, pitching nicely up until this time, was forced out of the game.

Cooper, a former Drexelite, took to the mound in relief only to leave in disgust after walking two batters, without getting a ball near the plate. Gallivan stepped in to complete the hurling for Scharlauwine.

In the final inning of the Drexel rally fell short as Coach Bud signaled for a double steal which failed. Once again the Dragons were given to Waltman but his lack of control and poor fielding by his teammates gave the Dickenson-reached team an early lead of 2 to 0. The boys have asked for a more beautiful night on which to hold their Lodge party last week! After dinner, the members of the Lambda Chi attended a party held by the Alpha Pi. The evening was spent out to gather around the fire to sing and dance. On Saturday night, the line spirit of the fraternal organization was provided for our transportation to and from the lodge was certainly a convenience. A round of applause to the members of the Lambda Chi for taking care of the details which helped make the affair a huge success.

Draft Forging By Engineers

A sharp appeal against drafting students in accredited engineering schools throughout the nation was filed today by the largest organization of registered engineers. The appeal was filed before the House Armed Services Committee, by Senator P. A. Andrews (R., N. Y.) of the National Society of Professional Engineers. The committee is now hearing on legislation for theSelective Service.

Speaking on behalf of the Society, which has over 17,000 members in states, Paul H. Robbins, Executive Director, declared that "the interest of our national defense and the welfare of the country require exemption of engineering and other technic students of accredited educational institutions from military service."

Admitting that the question of reenlistment or deferment of special classes of our citizens is a particularly difficult one for the committee, Mr. Robbins expressed belief that with the cooperation of recognized engineering educational institutions a problem could be solved.

States by engineers in engineering and education, the witness pointed out, indicate that indiscriminate drafting of engineering students during World War II has resulted in a year’s shortage of from 13,000 to 25,000 engineers, and that the nation entered the post-war period with a deficit in our trained scientific personnel.
