Dorm Scene of Annual Student-Faculty Tea

Sunday, January 16, marked with clear, mild weather, was the day of the very successful and well-attended tea given by the student-faculty members of the Student-Faculty Association and Men's Student Council, sponsored by President Dr. James M. Fuller, Dean Emery R. Young and Leon D. Bramble, associate dean. Drexel Van Rensselaer Dormitory from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

The purpose of this annual tea is to have the student officers and leaders of the society meet the faculty and to develop the manners of the faculty to bring about a closer understanding between the students and faculty. It is because of the faculty's desire to know the students better and the students' desire to know the faculty that the whole relationship may mean more to both.

After being received by Betty Ann Begley, president of Women's Student Association and James James Cress, Jr., Leon D. Bramble, associate dean, Mrs. William Young, Dean of Women; Herbert F. W. president of Men's Student Council, and Esther Liss, president of the Sireh Drexel Van Rensselaer Dormitory, the tea was formed and tea, fancy cakes and cookies, nuts and fruit were laid out in the Beryl conference rooms to the accompaniment of music by the Women's Chorus and the Drexel Band. Free of charge.

The tea was a great success, attendance was a very large one and the students found the tea to be an enjoyable and a helpful experience. Mary Lou Brooks, treasurer, expressed the thanks of the Women's Student Association and Men's Student Council to all of the sponsors who made the tea possible.

Tutors Needed

Any student who feels qualified and interested in tutoring is invited to apply. The Men's Student Council and Women's Student Association have donated funds to cover the cost of the tutor. Any student wishing to be tutored should submit his name and subject to the Men's Student Council or Women's Student Association. The Men's Student Council is also willing to provide a tutor for those students who need one.
Fact and the Faculty

SUNDAY afternoon last, the Student Women Government Association, Men's Student Council, and President James Creeze held their get-acquainted tea at the Sarah Van Rensa sel House for the women. For those of you who have not yet attended one of these affairs, the purpose of which is to make closer, more personal contact between the leaders of various student activities and class officers and the teachers, professors, and administrators of Drexel.

A Phi-O 2 Sponsors Service Sorority

At the national convention of Alpha Phi Omega in New York City, the Alpha Phi Omega Drexel Women's Independent held its annual dinner meeting. It was decided that the chapter would work toward the goal of service in the community.

The keynote for the evening was a talk by Dr. Thomas F. Powers of the University of Pennsylvania, on the topic of "Problem Fabrics." A problem, he said, is a situation in which a person is unable to understand the problem's cause and effect. The keynote was followed by a question and answer session.

In order to earn a Phi-O membership, a student must attend at least one chapter meeting and participate in at least one community service project. The chapter also provides financial support for students who wish to attend other Alpha Phi Omega events.

Women Independent Weekend at Lodge

Opening their winter term's social activities, the Drexel Women's Independent held its winter weekend at the lodge. The weekend was attended by over 200 members of the lodge.

The keynote of the weekend was a dance held Saturday evening, followed by a banquet on Sunday afternoon. There were several other events, such as a talent show and a cookie sale.

The weekend was a success, and the members of the Drexel Women's Independent are looking forward to their next event.

A Student's Epistle

Dear Mom,

Thanks a lot for the things you sent in the lunch box. The cookies were delicious and I shared them with my friends. The only problem was that I got the wrong cookie.

I washed it. Now I have a new plaid necktie. I'm afraid that you will have to sew it on now. It's a new one, but I'm sure it will look just as good. I'll be sure to take care of it.

You're always busy making things for me. I love you, Mom.

Yours truly,

Sincerely,

Chesterfield

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

A few weeks ago I was arguing with a couple of friends who were planning an all-male college club. I asked them to give reasons why they were interested in joining a fraternity, but they refused to explain their reasons. I think that they may have been afraid of being judged negatively if they admitted their interest in joining a fraternity.

I've heard that fraternity men only go out drinking and partying, but I don't think that that's true. I know many fraternity men who are involved in various community service projects, and I think that they make a valuable contribution to society.

Yours truly,

Sincerely,

K. C. O. D."

I May Be Wrong...
by Ron Silverman

On the small matriculation card that you carry constantly in your pocket or purse, the obvious lesson of college life can escape your notice as easily as a single pebble on the seashore beach. The words are plain enough. "Athletic and Student Activities Fee." However, the fee is not so plain; it's a pretty fancy price. Twenty-five dollars a year makes up a goodly portion of the total cost of tuition here at Drexel. Why should this be so? Why is the student charged all this money for something that has no relation on campus? The answer is simple. No credits are given toward graduation for extra-curricular activities. There must be a darn good reason.

Perhaps to phrase these questions enough to bring these complaints to the ears of the educators that form the curricula of this college. At least this can be said: that academic courses alone are not enough equipment for college graduates. There must be available for students the means to expand their narrow world into the meeting of events and topics covered by the organizations on our campus. They must be given the opportunity to develop any leadership that they may have and to sit face to face with the problems that may later confront them in various organizations for the solution of social and small, one-man businesses.

Our college: a place for general problems; each committee has organizational difficulties. The people who minimize the activity, or have been in such a scope, any development must be a general plan of college education. The huge cost of the educational student who tends to a typewriter each week for the student engineer has to be true. How is this wise? Why is the student charged this much to key in the proper organization? Scuttlebult would have it that they are... (EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA, NEW YORK)

Dragons Romp to 75-50 Triumph

Techmen Lose Encounter To Lehighton 58-48;
Play Must-Game Against P. M. C. Tomorrow

by WALT ELMAN

The Dragons jumped back into the win column last Saturday evening, January 13, as they rolled to an impressive 75-50 triumph over the Lehighton Hornets at Franklin and Marshall College. It was the first win of the evening’s festivities gave the Dragons the lead at the end of the first quarter the Dragons held a 25-0 margin.

Continuing their fine breaking, aggressive style of play, the Techmen kept Franklin & Marshall at bay and moved to take an overwhelming lead at the half, 44-2.

"Horns" Chase’s men rolled up ten points before the third quarter was four minutes old. Two quick buckets by MacCart and some quick-handed underhand shooting by Stan Laskus started the evening’s scoring by dropping a one-lander from the side. A pivot and tap shot by MacCart advanced the score to 66 before Summer Baker checked in with two foul goals to give; MacCart, Jablonski, Skurla and Laskus continued to hit the nets and at the end of the first quarter the Dragons held a 25-0 margin.

Flanking against the Dragon reserve strength in the fourth period, Franklin and Marshall’s Coach Bob Zink, who had scored but one goal from the field, turned the time, moved into the limelight as he tallied 12 points in the final quarter. Roy Wagner and Bob Breston paced the Tech five down the home stretch. Breston’s driven shot ripped the nets as the buzzer sounded.

For the up-state Engineers and John Zink, who turned in 9 points. The Dragons’ high scorer, was placed his position. Co-Captain Bob Linde, the Phi Kaps (s) game all night on Walt Ellman’s back shot — a lead that they were able to hold intact practically the entire first half. Dolrush was big man for the victorious 122 tallies, tallied by Ellman with 11 and Paul Eckardt with 10.

In the opening period, the big Teke team, 41 to 39. The Theta Chi team, by playing fast ball, was able to control boards . . . and thus the whole ball game.

The last period of play saw new of the turn of the home court, the Dragons walked away with a 15-point lead. As the whistle blew, the Dragons had amassed 20 points.

The meeting will deal with Drexel’s spring training in many ways. At plan-present at present, practices will start on Tuesday, April 18 at 2:00 p.m. with an inter-bowl game. Thursday and Friday, March 21 and 25 will be used to issue equipment. Practice will be held in the evening from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m., so that most students, including those in industry, will be able to attend.

Dubois and his new assistant coach, Bill Farrell, feel that they can spend more time conversing the style of the men new rather than in the height of a football season. In addition, the spring drills will help keep the men in good physical condition.

The entire coaching staff is scouting the Philadelphia area in new men. In addition, they hope that new men attending Drexel will be present at the meet.

BOOTERS HONORED

Two weeks ago at the National Soccer Coaches Association Meeting in New York City, an All-Star Team was chosen which demonstrated that the season enjoyed by the Dragon booters was no accident or coincidence.

Receiving the most votes for best man at Outside Inner was Shupak. Dugan’s brilliant and efficient play won him Drexel’s only post on the team.

At Left Forward, the Blue and Gold placed Al Wacker on the first honorarium as he scored the late goal that made the picture of the evening’s festivities give the Dragons the lead at the end of the first half.
