Homecoming 1960

Drexel vs. P. M. C.
Homecoming Schedule Set
For Roaring '20's Weekend

Homecoming 1946 will be climax ed this weekend with numerous activi ties open for the enjoyment of the entire student body, and in par ticular, your parents and the Drexel alumni. A pep rally Friday night and the football game with Pennsylvania Military College Saturday afternoon will highlight the activities.

Pep Rally
Tonight the festivities will begin with a pep rally for the game on Woodland Avenue in front of the Drexel Library at 7:30. As in past years, the Drexel ROTC Band, the football cheerleaders and other pep people will be there. During the pep rally, the fraternity and sororities will hold their annual cheerleading contest, which was won last year by Delta Zeta and Lambda Chi Alpha. Instead of the usual small megaphone, trophies will be presented to the winners. Also the co-chairs of the competition held in Great Court this week. Trophies will be awarded in place of the traditional miniature megaphones. Last year's top honorees went to the combined efforts of Delta Zeta, Sigma Alpha Phi and Alpha Chi Omega.

As a climax to the "best dressed couple" contest which will be judged tonight, the winner will be presented in their winning "Twenties" costume at the rally by chairman Tony Coppla. The prize will be four $5.99 gift certifi cates.

The evening will end with the vigorous improvisations of Kenny Deuber's Dixieland Band. The dancing will continue until 12:45. For the Samba's enjoyment the Student Union is having an open house featuring coffee and cake for all.

Another eventful day is planned for tomorrow. Commencing at 12:00 at the athletic field at 4th and Haverford Avenue, there will be box lunches available for everyone at a nominal figure of $1.85 per couple. Following the box lunch, a game of activities will commence. Numerous surprises will be around 12:45. A parade of old 1920 cars led by the Homecoming Queen will arrive at the school and circle the field, after which President Creese will give his welcoming address. Immediately prior to the same there will be the Corps of P.M.C. for the hundred and fifty strong, which will march on the field.

The football game with PMC will present the Drexel eleven with their best, the winners will be presented for victory this season, for despite their poor record the team has shown definite improvement throughout the season. Halftime ceremonies will high light the homecoming proceedings. Nick Falcone, President of the Student Senate, will present the Homecoming Queen, who will be crowned by last year's lovely queen, Miss Crandall. Next, the President of I.F. Council, Pete Rowe, will present the coveted little "brown jug" to the winner of the fraternity display. These displays willbegin at starting Friday evening at the opening games. The Alumni Rally Club will also present an award.

After the same everyone is cordially invited to President's Tea in the Library at 4:30. Refreshments will be served and tours of the new modern building can be taken. This will give the students and their parents an excellent opportunity to see the entire library and building to meet the President of the school, Dr. Creese, and to meet the Homecoming Queen and her court.

Last, but not least, the ten fraternity sisters at Drexel will have open houses Saturday night. Everyone including freshmen should feel welcome.

We hope that everyone enjoys the festivities and the activities of this year's Homecoming for much time and effort has been spent in making this Homecoming the best.

Gen. Greene Talks To ROTC Cadets

On October 15, Major General Greene, Director of the U.S. Army ROTC, addressed the members of the Cadet Brigade. General Greene directed his remarks to the incoming cadets, stressing the importance of ROTC in its role of training leaders. He expressed his belief that America must strengthen its Armed Forces to insure our safety.

Senate Actions To Include Conference, New Cabinet

Vice President Richard Nixon and wife Pat are shown above at the reception held in Philadelphia by the students of the University of Pennsylvania and Drexel Institute of Technology.

A governmental experiment was tried by the Senate on Saturday, Oct. 15 at the Cherry Hill Inn. From all indications, First Annual Senate Conference, Sections 1, proved to be successful for almost all who attended. The purpose of the conference was for student leaders to become aware of the problems that the new government has to face this year and to formulate the government's budget. Included in the agenda were talks and presentations given by several student organizations.

Senator president Nick Falco:'an gave a forty-five minute orientation speech which covered such topics as the old and new governments, the concept, scope and structure of the new governmental organization, the advantages and disadvantages of such a structure, and the purpose of the Conference. Starting at 9:30 in the morning, the Conference enjoyed two coffee breaks and a delicious lunch, and adjourned at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Although every student organization that was invited to attend the Conference, many organizations were not represented. Most participants rated the experience successful and useful. In general the Conference accomplished all that it set out to do by providing insight to the problems of some of Drexel's organizations and providing the stimulus for new ideas which are hoped to be tried by and incorporated into the Drexel Senate.

"SHELL WE DANCE?"

The Women's Athletic Association will offer two groups of social dance lessons beginning Thursday, October 27, 1949. The instructions will be given at the Drexel Library for a period of weeks.

Letters to the Editors:

Dear Sir,

This past Saturday, I attended the First Annual Drexel Senate Conference at Cherry Hill Inn, as President of the Senate of the University of Pennsylvania. The conference was not only a failure, it was a fiasco. Never have so many people spent so much money and time, to accomplish so little; except for heckering and bunting one another's feelings.

The first sentence of the first paragraph of the invitation to student leaders from the Senate reads, "The purpose of the conference, primarily, is to discuss various phases of student life and activity at Drexel." The second sentence of the second paragraph reads, "You will be free to take part in these discussions."

And yet, even with these assurances in the invitation, the chairman and the student leaders proceeded to rebut and refute those statements made by the student senators. They requested that student leaders not be permitted to take part in discussions while they carried out senate business. At one time there was even a motion on the floor to prevent student leaders from expressing their opinion on the conference itself. In fact, one leader declared out of order for doing just that.

In my five years at Drexel I have had an intense interest in student affairs and extra-curricular activities. It would appear to me that this group who comprise the Senate, and who pretend to do what they do, is being as their chief interest, should at least be the organization to the man who is in a position to know what the really active students think about student affairs. This, however, was not the case. These sessions have a preconceived opinion of what we the student leaders want, and they're out of a mind to let the students tell them that their opinions are all wet.

Frank Benassauti, M.E., '61

P.S. There are many facts about which students should be informed for which one letter does not provide enough space. These facts will be brought to light in the very near future by responsible leaders in the student body. Watch for the "Weekly Student."

Dear Sir,

In reference to the comments of Mr. Frank Benassauti of Alpha Phi Omega which appear on this page, I feel that Mr. Benassauti certainly has the right to voice a personal opinion. It is the Senate's wish that more students exercise such a right. However, I feel that Mr. Benassauti's comments should be somewhat qualified by one important factor that he has failed to mention. This important factor is that at least 53 of the 35 participants expressed their opinion at the end of the day, that the conference was very useful, and certainly successful. This would have been apparent to Mr. Benassauti had he stayed for the entirety of the program and had not left shortly after eating lunch.

Dear Sirs,

Since it was 5:16 Sunday night when we decided to see Mort Sahl, whose style of humor was not what I had expected, and since we found ourselves basically empty anyway, we found ourselves bemused by Mort Sahl's Academy of Music. This was the first sentence of the day's quarter-guard report. It is not too widely known that since the management of the Academy controls the fact by only seating three at very low prices that if you are faking out the guy who wants to impress his girl by spending a lot but who sub­sequently gets stuck with far inferior ground floor seats.

Even then, there were three there, and a few were, who was dressed in his Sunday best. We, of course, being spots of the moment theater goers, looked to have just come out of a meeting of Zen Buddhist local No. 167.

After having entered our own private Locust Street entrance and having proceeded to the uppermost floor, we settled back in our seats, resting our heads against the ceiling. This was advantageous since we picked up added sound waves through our skulls. We, also, quietly administered first aid to our noses which had started to bleed. This was not an accident to the height.

Then out on the stage walked the great and good, Mort Sahl, fresh from a tour of Russia, Cuba, and other pseudo-intellectual strongholds. It was then that I realized I was Mort Sahl. The stage was no far away (straight down) it was on the balcony. It was quite close. We were able to see his face, the left hand, and the hot air which had risen to the ceiling. Mort Sahl was talking, but, we had accomplished what we had ever wanted and we were very much interested in the words he was saying. We were interested in what was being exchanged, not in the words Mort Sahl was using.

Anyway, Mort greeted his responsive audi­ence with a few humorous remarks. In­troduced his fellow entertainers, the Limelighters and then retired to their dressing room. Let Freedom Ring.

See Mort Sahl, fresh from a tour of Russia, Cuba, and other pseudo-intellectual strongholds. This was the first sentence of the second paragraph. Let Freedom Ring.

Dear Sir,

I want to write about my recent experience with Mort Sahl at the Academy of Music. I had never before been exposed to him and his style of humor. I went to see him because I admire his style of humor and I did not hear any of his routines, I went to the show open-mindedly to see what he was all about. I enjoyed him and I am-
Is Drexel Providing An Education or A Degree?

In the education of today—the philosophical and practical, the systematic and the personal—the purpose other than to regiment a program is primarily educational usefulness. The present purpose is to outline a program that is practical usefulness.

The student earns at Drexel exactly what he desires. If his ambition is to earn the degree by the end of such a seemingly short period of time, then he does the man of today go to learn to solve his problems and to make better use of the available tools—his voice—his opinions?

Desire is a powerful motivator.

THE PICKET LINE

by Stephen Palmer

The Republican and Democratic party platforms both support the picket-strike. The churches are preaching brotherhood. The Supreme Court is upholding the free and equal right of man, regardless of color or nationality.

PICKET LINE

Men and Women of America!!! Be the first on your block to hate 15 years, count them different minority groups that now are trying to overthrow America's businesses and educational system. Positively no scientific system of classification used! Your choice any or all of the following:

Negroes—Jews—Germans—Italians—Mexicans
Catholics—Chinese—Puerto Ricans—Indians
Cubans—Russians (party members, slightly higher)
Hindus—Liliputians

No box tops to send! No coupons to cut out. No statements to complete in 25, 50, or 100 words. Just send name and address to:

RACISTS OF AMERICA
ANYWHERE, U.S.A.

THE NEXT THING TO DO IS TO CONTACT ANY AND ALL OF YOUR FRIENDS AND GET THEM TO HELP CONVERT THOSE IGNORES AND MEN WHO ARE CAUGHT IN THE MIDST OF THIS QUESTION. THIS STEP IS EASY! JUST TELL THEM THAT THEIR OWN ego will be built up whenever they insult a minority group.

THE FOLLOWING IS THE MOST REWARDING AND SATISFYING ONE. GATHER TOGETHER AS MANY OF YOUR FRIENDS AS YOU POSSIBLY CAN AND TEACH ONE OR TWO MEMBERS OF ANY OF THE ABOVE GROUPS. THIS NATURALLY LEADS TO A PHYSICALLY VIOLENT CLASH OF TONGUES AND ANY OTHER MISCELLANEOUS WEAPONS THAT YOU HAVE BEEN ABLE TO SECURE. THIS PROVES BEYOND ANY DOUBT, THAT YOU ARE SUPERIOR TO THE MINORITY GROUP!!!

If you have followed the above steps religiously, you have completely fulfilled your role as a citizen of the greatest democracy in the world.

Remember, as the Ku Klux Klan says: "We must keep this an American for the Americans in order to keep America strong.”

So HATE, it's the thing to do.
The biggest thing "Bout Town this week is Drexel's Homecoming. We will start on Friday night at the library where our sororities and fraternities will compete to bring glory and fame to their group by better the best chants. Following the pep rally there will be Dixieland music supplied by Drexel's own Kenny Delmar and his band. Dancing will take place on Woodland Ave.

Saturday at noon there will be a parade to our field where we meet our opponent P.M.C. for the big game. Festivities at the game include presentation of the Queen and her court, awarding of the Brown Jug to the fraternity with the best house display and a special half-time show by the ROTC Band and majorettes.

Saturday night we will start house-hopping at Lambda Chi house where we will dance to the music of the "Old Tones," Capitol Recording Stars, and sample their delicious buffet supper which starts at 6:30 p.m. The surprise feature is the Crescent Trio, not recording stars, but famous in their own right.

Next we will visit the Delta Sigma Phi House where we learn alumni are sponsoring a buffet at the Philadelphia Girls' Rowing Club to which all brothers are invited.

We will then walk to the "Apple Pie" house where the "University Four" and special entertainment will begin at 10:00 p.m. Don't forget their traditional warm-up after the game with apple pie and coffee.

As we walk around the corner, we find the brothers and alumni of I.M.R. returning from their dinner at The Anchorage. We have a bite to eat and listen to the "Fourtunes".

Across the street we hear strains of Paul Martin's Orchestra playing Dixieland music at the Sigma Pi house. Refreshments consist of a beautifully prepared buffet supper.

Our next stop is Theta Chi, where there is a never-to-be-served supper after the dance at 7:00 p.m. The band of the evening is Tom Edwards from the S.R.A. Club in Norristown.

From here we go up Powelton Ave. to the TKP house where the Band is entertaining us while we have sandwiches.

Next door at the Sammy house the "Mellow Larks" are playing. The special attraction here is the refreshments which will consist of buns, hot and cream cheese. You have to taste them all!

At the TEP house we sample the Danish pastry, pigs-in-blankets, Hawaiian punch and knishes, while listening to their dance band.

The last house we visit is the Pi Kapi house where brother Jack Melton and his band are playing jazz while we have our last bite to eat.

We are now tired out from dancing, and couldn' t possibly eat one more bite, so we decide to end another great Homecoming.

A ’59 GRAD’S INTERESTING JOB with a Pennsylvania ELECTRIC UTILITY

Flashback: Eleven months after starting with his company and shortly after completing the initial training program, Steve was selected to participate in a research project at General Electric Company’s High Voltage Laboratory in Pittsfield, Mass. Here, he is seen at the G.E. lab where he helped develop instruments to measure lightning current.

At one of the two 460,000-volt line structures near Harrisburg, Pa., Steve checks the operation of a line surge oscilloscope which automatically takes pictures of the wave shape of lightning stroke as they occur near the line. In addition to the lightning protection study, his work included representation of the U.S. to several international conferences and meetings of the Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Atable graduates in all fields will find interesting and rewarding jobs with Pennsylvania’s progressive electric utilities. Get in touch with your representation agent for the Drexel Triangle.

Film Festival Will Show Russian Film

The premiere of "The Forty-First," Russian Grand Prize winner at the Cannes Film Festival, will highlight the program of Exceptional Films Society this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday nights at the Franklin Institute, 21st Street and the Parkway. Walter Labor, associate director of the film club, states that "The Forty-First" is revolutionary in that it is a modern story told without socialist bombast. The hero is actually a White Russian.

The film will be screened at 7:15 p.m. each of the three evenings. At 9:00 o'clock, a second feature will be presented, "Blue Angel" with Marlene Dietrich and Emil Jannings. By vote of the Exceptional Films membership, the ten grading international cinema classics will be selected from preceding programs of the club, and recharge during this season.

Information regarding attendance at Exceptional Films programs can be obtained from the club office, 8 S. 17th St., (Loxton 1487) or at Gimbels' Ticket Office.

The Student Zionist Ocean Travel and Phi Sigma Sigma hosted a Freshman mixer Monday night, October 17. About thirty students were entertained by the songs of Israel as rendered by Miss Rivke Buchman, an Israeli recently arrived in the United States.

International Film Jubilee
Marks Club’s 10th Season

Eleven double-feature programs presenting prize-winning feature films from all over the world will be screened for the membership of Exceptional Films Society during its 10th anniversary season, with the first program scheduled October 6, 7 and 8 at the Franklin Institute, 26th St. and the Parkway.

Thereafter, at three-week intervals, each program will be offered on three successive evenings, always on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, starting at 7:15 p.m., with the second feature scheduled at 9:00 p.m.

Double Features
According to Walter Luber, Associate Director of Exceptional Films Society, "we decided to undertake the enormous project of double-feature programs this season as a way of celebrating our 10th birthday. To our knowledge, no other film club in America has ever presented such an ambitious schedule.

On each double-feature program, we will screen one of the international classical films chosen by the new subscribers from a ballot of 40 pictures we have played in the past nine years. Then, on the same evening, we will also screen a second feature film of outstanding quality, which either has not been seen in Philadelphia, or slipped out of town without being seen by enough people. Very often, great pictures are unfairly buried by a large audience—which assures that precisely those people equipped to understand and appreciate the quality of the film, will be misled and never see it!"

Among the "new" features scheduled by Exceptional Films are India's "Aparajito"; Russia's "The Forty-Five"; France's "God Needs Men," and "Four Flies Fall!"; Italy's "The Roof," by De Sica, and "Il Violento," by Pasolini; Greece's "A Girl for the White Night"; Japan's "The Magnificent Seven"; Denmark's "Ditte, Child of Man"; and the long neglected Orson Welles production of "The Magnificent Ambersons."

Foreign Films
The ballot of "all-time-greatest" film classics on which members will vote for 11 "popular request" replies includes pictures from France, Sweden, England, Germany, Italy, Japan, Mexico, Denmark, and the U.S.A.

Schedules and subscription forms may be procured at Gimbel's Ticket Office or at Exceptional Films Society, 34 1/2 37th St., Philadelphia. Special rates are available to teachers and students.
